Pope Francis' General Audience from Wednesday

Dear brothers and sisters: Today we begin a new series of catecheses dealing with the commandments. In the Gospel passage we heard earlier, a young man asks Jesus: "What must I do to inherit eternal life?". His question expresses the universal desire, felt especially by young people, to live a full and authentic existence and not to settle for a life of bland mediocrity. Jesus first tells the young man to follow the commandments, but then points beyond them to something "greater", something that is still lacking. He invites the young man, who has obeyed the commandments from childhood, to sell what he has, give to the poor and follow him, promising that in this way he will have "treasure in heaven" (Mk 10:21). Here we see the meaning of Jesus' saying that he came, "not to abolish the Law but to fulfil it". The Lord wishes to give us that something greater, the treasure of life in abundance. In coming weeks, we will reflect on how the Law finds its fulfilment in the new life of grace. In the Ten Commandments, read in the light of Christ, we will find a door through which we can follow Jesus to the fullness of life: his own life and our life as God's children.

St John Payne School. New intake & primary liaison. The soon-to-be New Head-teacher, Mr Coen, writes, 'We look forward to welcoming Y6 students from our Catholic feeder schools for our new intake day on Monday 25th June, followed by an information evening for parents and carers on Thursday 28th June from 7.30 p.m. We also look forward to meeting those Year 5 students who will attend our taster day on Wednesday 27th June, and also parents and carers able to attend the information evening from 7.00-8.00 p.m. These events present the opportunity to strengthen the three-way partnership between the home, school and parish that underpins all that we do. We are hugely appreciative of the wonderful formation students receive from their primary schools and parishes, and are excited at the prospect of working together with parents and carers to continue this provision and support their children towards their God given potential. We would love to see you, and can assure you of a warm welcome.'
